

SUBMISSION OF RETURN FORMS 2025

CONTENT, CONNECTIONS AND CONSEQUENCES

COURSE INTRODUCTION

Over the last few years, Return Forms have become more demanding and detailed to serve the vigilance of the Inland Revenue Board (“IRB”). This is to allow better verification by IRB of taxpayers’ declared income and claims made. To add to the new challenges, income itself now includes receipts which previously did not fall liable.

There is now cross-reference between details stated in differing segments or pages, contributing to self-auditing mechanisms. Taxpayers have to understand what each segment represents and how they are related to other sections of the forms. Obviously, there must be consistency in the information provided.

Return Forms can be described as the instruments which assist Inland Revenue in deciding whether tax audits or investigations are necessary.

All the principal sections of Return Forms C, B, E and EA will be examined in detail. This is to ensure that the forms are completed in accordance with the law and procedural requirements of Inland Revenue.

The newly introduced Form CGT (Capital Gains Tax) will also be explained.
